Madison audit results in accounting changes

By DONNA KIMBRO
Staff writer

MADISON — Accountants' recommendations will lead to procedural changes to provide better control of city assets, revenue and financial information, City Treasurer Fred Bathon told aldermen Tuesday night.

Peat, Marwick, Mitchell & Co. has found fault with municipal records for the period ending April 30. Officials, some of whom took office in May, have made it clear a more thorough approach will be taken in 1985-86.

A TOTAL OF $211,154 in the general fund will be written off or considered "forgiven," the City Council was told.

This amount of money was previously loaned from the general fund to subsidize the alarm fund, which has shown a deficit each year. There is no way in the future that it can be paid back, since the alarm system is not breaking even with its expenses," Bathon said.

The alarm system, currently serving a number of business places and senior citizens' homes, was established in conjunction with original plans for a city-operated cable television system. The city cable service was never placed in operation and its equipment since has been sold to South-Western Cable TV.

WHEN THE CABLE system was sold for $515,000, the money was deposited in the city's general fund. Total cable expenditures over a period of several years are not covered by Peat, Marwick's July 12 financial statement and Sept. 9 recommendations.

The July audit report was qualified "(1) because the city does not provide depreciation on depreciable fixed assets in its enterprise (alarm) funds and (2) subject to the effects, if any, of the city's technical default with respect to its revenue bond indenture (shopping center) requirements."

Although the cable and alarm systems use the same lines, the cable sale price did not include the alarm system. As a result, no repayment is recorded for the loan of $211,154.

NOW THAT THE CABLE segment has been sold, the alarm system still uses the lines at no cost to the city, officials said.

In addition to the $211,154 write-off, attention is being given to another $45,000 loaned to the alarm fund from the liability insurance fund.

SINCE THE SYSTEM does not have any resources to earn money, it cannot pay the two accounts back and these amounts also will be written off, Bathon said.

Representatives of Peat, Marwick were present to explain their report and said they were of the opinion that the city's terminology was wrong in past transfers.

In a prepared statement, they said, "Several interfund transactions made during fiscal 1984-85 were referred to as 'loans' or 'borrowings' in the council minutes. However, the substance of the transaction appeared to be an operating transfer. We recommend that the council review to-due from other funds detail and identify items which should be classified as operating transfers and (those) which should remain as interfund receivables payables."

"IT SHOULD BE NOTED that the buildup of interfund loans in the alarm, playground and recreation, and capital projects funds has resulted in accumulated fund deficits in these funds."

"Since the intention of the council appears to be to subsidize any shortfall in the activities of these funds, we recommend that the council consider 'forgiving' the accumulated interfund debts and funding future

Help on way for Alzheimer victims

Expanded research and services for victims of Alzheimer's Disease are part of a package signed into law by Gov. James Thompson Sept. 17.

Alzheimer's Disease ravages not only the victim but also the victim's family, which must deal with the overwhelming frustrations of incapacitation and dependency," Thompson said. "In Illinois, that means more than 100,000 people and their families are victims."

"UNTIL THERE is a cure for Alzheimer's Disease, we can only offer help in dealing with the symptoms and stresses related to it. With this law, the state has taken steps to help those who have fallen victim to the disease, while promoting research to find a cure."

Included in the legislation Thompson signed are:

— House Bill 301 and Senate Bill 388, which create the Alzheimer's Disease Assistance Act, establishing a statewide network of regional and community-based medical and social services.

The legislation also creates the Alzheimer's Disease Advisory Committee under the direction of the GRANITE CITY — There are good and bad points to Alzheimer's Disease legislation just signed into law, according to a Granite City man whose wife suffers from the disease.

Leo Lippe, who runs Frenchie's Bakery and Catering at 1735 Pontoon Road, agreed with many of the bills, which will take effect Jan. 1, 1986. Lippe's wife, Lucille, 65, has had Alzheimer's for the past several years.

"It's quite a deal," he said. "HE DID NOT AGREE with everything, however. One part of the legislation will establish a network of regional and community-based medical and social services and an

The last of America's traditional, big tented circuses with a wild-animal menagerie and the world's largest herd of captive elephants will make a one-day appearance Friday, Oct. 4, in Lee Park, Venice.

Sponsored by Venice Lions, the Carson and Barnes 5-Ring Circus will present two separate performances, starting at 4:30 and 8 p.m.

PROCEEDS will be used to aid handicapped and disadvantaged children in this area, according to Green Jacks, Lions president, and Earl Hogan, circus chairman.

Advance tickets, $3 for children aged 12 and under and $5 for adults, are available at area business firms and from Venice Lions' members. At the gate, adult tickets will cost $6 and children's $4.

The circus big top is flameproof and covers 380x150 feet, almost a city block long. Featured inside are five rings, two stages, a steel arena and a hippodrome track.

NUBIAN LIONS and Siberian tigers will perform in the steel arena to the commands of Patricia White, animal trainer who is in her fifth season with Carson and Barnes.

Council approves handicapped parking plan

GRANITE CITY — The value of handicapped parking at City Hall was weighed by aldermen Tuesday night.

A plan was approved to purchase property at 2030 Edinole Ave. The property, which is directly behind City Hall, will be used to provide parking for handicapped persons.

AN UNOCCUPIED brick home, owned by Huey Bennett, is on the property. The city will pay $30,000 for the purchase.

There are currently no handicapped parking spaces around City

Hall. Mayor Von Dee Cruse said the parking space is needed as part of a plan to make the city building completely accessible to the disabled. A plan to install an elevator in the building is in the bidding process.

CRUSE SAID IT is important for the parking to be in the rear of the building, because the entrance for the handicapped will be near there. The elevator will start at ground level, enabling the disabled to avoid having to maneuver up any stairs.

Two aldermen objected to the purchase of the property.

Alderman Sam Whitmer, 2nd Ward, said he thinks the price is high when one considers the amount of parking spaces it will provide.

THE PROPERTY is angular shaped with dimensions of 30x105x71 feet.

"Besides the cost of purchasing the property, there will be the cost of removing the house and paving the land," Whitmer said. "We're talking maybe $50,000 for practically no parking spaces."

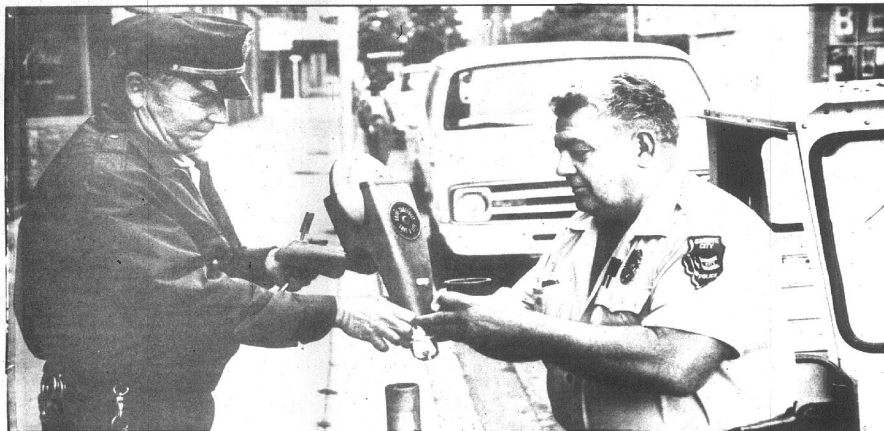

Seventh Ward Alderman Jeff Wor-

then also voted against the purchase.

HE SAID HE preferred to wait until the city has finished pay negotiations with its employees before it spends money on this type of project.

Cruse disagreed with Whitmer's statement after the meeting.

"How can you put a price tag on the value of handicapped parking?" he asked. "This is something that has been needed at City Hall for years."

Time's up!

A PARKING METER IS REMOVED in the 1900 block of Delmar Avenue Wednesday afternoon by Granite City patrolmen Erv Keuenhoff, left, and Sam Avedisian. Council members approved the removal of meters from some of the downtown streets, hoping to boost sales in the shopping district.

Village Board annexes businesses, residences

By SUSANNE INDELICATO
Staff writer

PONTOON BEACH — L.J. Ross, 84 Lumber, Frito Lay Inc., Five Star Contractors, Vesel Inc. and Air Products and Chemicals Inc., plus homes on Lake Drive south of Highway 162 to State Aid 35, are now part of the village.

Several of the businesses annexed are on Illinois Route 111. The Village Board of Trustees passed an ordinance Tuesday annexing the area along 111 to Lakeside Airport.

ALSO ANNEXED was the Sunny Acres subdivision, except for nine parcels; property owners of those parcels had objected to the annexation.

The action followed a court order issued Tuesday morning by Madison County Associate Judge Edward G. Ferguson. The village filed a court petition to annex the area Aug. 23.

The newly-annexed area is zoned B-2 general business, except for the subdivision, which is zoned for single-family residences.

MADISON COUNTY will not lose any real estate tax revenues from the annexed area, according to Madison County Treasurer Miek Henkhaus.

However, the county will lose sales tax revenues because some of the sales taxes will be channeled to the village for police costs. Henkhaus said.

Bicycle event to benefit leukemia research

Eight years ago, teenager Carol Gurley died of leukemia. Five years ago, her friend Denise Sparks of Bethalto began doing something to help find a cure for this killer disease. For three years she swam in the Leukemia Society's annual Super Swim Classic event and in 1984 was the grand prize winner, bringing in $2,200.

Now she is embarking on a new venture. After nearly two years of dreaming, planning and intense training, Sparks, 26, departed Sept. 17 for San Diego, Calif., to begin the "Denise Sparks Bike-A-Thon" for leukemia on Sept. 24, bicycling from San Diego to St. Louis. The bike-athon is dedicated not only to her friendhood but also to her new friend, nine-year-old Amy Pugh of Rosewood Heights who has leukemia.

Sparks anticipates the ride through seven states along a designated bicycle route will take about five weeks. Her employer, Atlas Plumbing Supply Co. Inc., where Sparks is employed as secretary/receptionist, has granted her a leave of absence to do the bike-athon and is underwriting the expenses of the trip.

A close cadre of friends and relatives has been behind her efforts and determination to pull off this feat. Sparks set a personal goal to raise $10,000 for the Leukemia Society's programs in research to find the cause and ultimate cure of this number one medical killer of children.

Since November, several fundraisers, including a dance, barbecue, car washes and door-to-door canvassing, have resulted in her raising close to $8,000. She has coordinated some events which will take place concurrently with the bike-athon.

Counted among her loyal supporters are Gerald and Marguerite Norton of Cottage Hills. A retired couple who roam the roads of the country, they have agreed to be Sparks' "official escorts" on the bike-athon. They are giving their time, their camper and, last but not least, their emotional support to help her over the long, lonely days and nights of bicycling cross-country.

Sparks is a door, and although she is small in stature, her spirit and determination can only be described as tremendous, friends say.

Donations can be made for the "Denise Sparks Bike-A-Thon" to the Metro St. Louis Chapter of the Leukemia Society of America Inc., 10425 Old Olive Street Road, St. Louis 63141.

ARRESTED AFTER CRASH
Stephen W. Moore, 18, of 2320 Delmar Ave. was arrested Sept. 20 for possession of cannabis cigarettes and failure to reduce speed to avoid his auto striking the parked car of Joseph Hauptman of 2600 Center St. at the latter address.

WARRANT SERVED HERE
Robert L. Spinner, 18, of 4058 Lake Drive was booked Sept. 19 on a warrant alleging deceptive practice. He was arrested in the 2100 block of Johnson Road.

Law tightens rules on free 'gift' offers

Firms or sales agents who offer free "gifts or prizes" to consumers are required to clearly state any conditions or obligations incurred through the gift under a new law effective Jan. 1, 1986.

It provides for suspension or loss of real estate licenses of persons who impose unstated conditions for receiving promised merchandise or services.

The legislation is particularly aimed at trying to curb abusive practices in the sale of real estate interests, which have cropped up primarily in the sale of time-share properties, such as vacation homes or recreational campgrounds.

"Many unsuspecting consumers have fallen victim to dishonest companies that promise gifts, merchandise and services at no cost and with no strings attached. What seems too good to be true often is just that when lengthy, intense sales pitches are made to people who were lured by the promise of something for nothing," Gov. James Thompson said.

Conditions or obligations that must be stated under the new law include requiring the gift recipient to attend a promotional activity or visit a real estate site.

Attorney General Neil Hartigan in June filed lawsuits against a number of recreational campgrounds in the state which were selling memberships and sending out promotional materials saying the gifts were too good to be true often is just that when lengthy, intense sales pitches are made to people who were lured by the promise of something for nothing," Gov. James Thompson said.

Among the allegations made by Hartigan were that the gifts were described in a misleading fashion and customers had to submit to "high pressure" sales talks before the prizes were given to them.

A firm operating a campground near Litchfield has agreed as part of a court order to modify its advertising offering gifts and submit future solicitations to review and approval by the attorney general's office.

East St. Louis man charged with DUI

Marshall A. Erhardt, 40, of East St. Louis was charged with driving while under the influence of alcohol and transporting alcohol at Illinois Route 3 and Niedringhaus Avenue at 4:25 a.m. Sept. 21.

His westbound auto allegedly crossed the highway from Niedringhaus and nearly hit a guard station at the Granite City Army Installation's main gate. A guard was waving at the driver to stop, it was alleged.

The car continued on about two blocks, made a U-turn and returned to the gate area. Erhardt was released after posting $100 bail and his driving license, pending an Oct. 25 court appearance.

Psalms 67:3 . . . "Let the people praise thee, O God; let all the people praise thee."

Praise to God is the highest form of thanksgiving. Primarily, it takes our minds off of ourselves and allows us to think of Him in all of His majesty and power.

In all things we are to give thanks. By understanding the power of praise we can do this very thing. God inhabits the praises of His people. If we delight ourselves in the Lord, He will give us the desire of our heart.

Praise does not fail to please God. Sometimes our prayers distress God — we ask amidst! Sometimes our tears do not move God — we weep for ourselves! Sometimes our giving does not impress God — we give to be seen of men! But, praise does no fail.

Let us together be thankful and praise the Lord.

Village still seeking post office

By SUSANNE INDELICATO
Staff writer

PONTON BEACH — Efforts to obtain a post office inside the village continue.

A request for a contract postal unit in the village was revealed Tuesday in a letter from Granite City Postmaster Larry Wood to Gene Childers, director of customer services, based in Carbondale.

Wood indicated the village board would like to locate a postal unit in the Village Hall at Route 111 and Lily Avenue.

"We've been working on a post office, and I believe we'll be able to get one," said Board President Glen Wilson.

Last May, the board was informed it would be unlikely a postal branch would be located in the village. Officials had written William T. Johnstone, assistant postmaster general in Washington, D.C., to request a branch.

Johnstone's letter said the growth of the village "is not sufficient" to justify a post office and the village is receiving "adequate" service from the Granite City post office.

OTHER ACTION
Other matters to come before the Village Board Tuesday included the following:

• The trustees authorized Police Chief Chef Ballew to hire Andrea Patterson as a full-time dispatcher and Richard Hayes as a part-time dispatcher.

• A cost-study program to determine the feasibility of putting village employees under the Illinois Municipal Retirement Fund program was approved. The study will cost $225.

• The trustees voted to allow Consolidated Network, a long-distance communications company, to bore under Route 111 and Lake Drive to install fiber-optic lines. The company must restore the roads to their original conditions, it was specified.

• The Illinois Public Action Committee informed the board of canvassing for funds in the village this month. A list of canvassers will be given to the police chief.

• Permission was granted to the Granite City High School band to collect donations at roadblocks at Pontoon Road and Breckenridge Lane and at Routes 111 and 162 on Sept. 27 and 28. The approval stipulates that collections be made only during daylight, and insurance be obtained by the Band Parents' Association.

• The Knights of Columbus were given permission to solicit donations at a roadblock at Pontoon Road and Route 111 on Oct. 18 and 19.

• The Lions Club was given permission to sell candy at a roadblock at Routes 111 and 162 on Oct. 12.

Senator will speak

Area school board members and superintendents will meet at Belleville Township High School West at 7 p.m. Wednesday, Oct. 2, for a semi-annual conference and dinner. State Sen. John W. Maitland Jr. will speak and then conduct an extended question and answer session at one of two large group sessions to be held at the meeting. The second group session is designed for candidates seeking seats on boards of education.

Q. I believe because of the changes in the industry I have worked in for the past 30 years that I may take an early retirement sometime in the next three years. What should I look at now to make retirement easier?

A. Anyone considering early retirement should take careful stock of his or her total financial situation. Remember, that a person who is sixty years old may live for another 20-25 years or more, and no one knows that the cost of living will be then. If you would require Social Security, pension and savings account interest to live now, you may have problems in the future. If you are able to meet current expenses with Social Security and live in a house with no mortgage, with a private pension and savings as a cushion, you'll probably keep up with inflation while it is linked to movements in the consumer index. Private pensions, however, will very probably now keep up with inflation. After examining your situation, you may want to work longer to build up more Social Security and invest in an IRA plan now.

Board seeks legal opinion

By DAVE WHALEY
Staff writer

GRANITE CITY — An opinion from William Schooley Sr. on the Lahr case will be sought if the attorney general's office hasn't rendered its opinion by Oct. 22.

Board member David Partney made a motion to get a written legal opinion from Schooley, the school board attorney, on the issue since, he said, "It will be two to three months before we get a decision from the attorney general."

Lahr's eligibility for candidacy was questioned by Robert Crider of Granite City in a letter and petition he sent to Dick Allen, Madison County state's attorney, Sept. 3. The election is set for Nov. 5. Her candidacy petition was not challenged during the time allotted.

"SOMETHING LIKE THIS has been brought up before," board member Tom Mofsky said. "Not about Mrs. Lahr, but some other cases like it. I think we would like to have an opinion."

Schooley was authorized to call the Illinois attorney general's regional office in Granite City to see if it was likely an opinion would be coming before Oct. 22, the date of the next scheduled board meeting.

If not, he is to have an opinion prepared for that meeting.

"THIS LADY WAS TOLD by the attorney general's office it could be two to three months before they would have an opinion on whether she may appear on the ballot," Partney said.

"This is an issue where all members of the board should know what the situation is," Mofsky said. "If it's going to take a couple of months, we should know something now."

Schooley said he would look into it and added that current rumors are not true; he said the rumors are that any action taken by the board while Lahr was a member (if it is determined she is not eligible to serve) would be void.

advisory committee under the direction of the Department of Public Health to develop by Jan. 1, 1987, a standard diagnosis and treatment of Alzheimer's.

"I disagree with it," Lipe said. "I still don't think they're involved enough with the people who have it. Even the doctors don't really know that much about it."

Lipe said hardly anything was known about the disease until Princess Jasmine, the daughter of actress Rita Hayworth, began some investigating.

"SHE HAD THE MONEY to find out," Lipe said. "Up until then, people just thought Rita Hayworth had become a crazy old drunk. But she had Alzheimer's. Now, the whole nation is aware of it."

"People might think it's insanity, but it's really just a disease of the brain."

Lipe agreed more with legislation that could provide alternatives to institutionalization.

"This is great," he said. "If they are kept in their surroundings, they will remember better."

FINANCIAL INCENTIVES will also be offered to nursing homes that provide more than the minimum care.

"A bill at the nursing home can go as high as $8,000 a month," Lipe said. "I couldn't go to work today because I had to stay home to look after my wife. I don't think we need any more institutions. Maybe a special floor in the hospital could be set aside."

Lipe said many people still aren't aware of how devastating the disease can be.

"I HAD A HEART ATTACK in January," he said. "While I was in the hospital, something happened to my wife's feet and she hasn't even been able to walk since February. We've been training her to walk since then. It's just a terrible thing to happen."

"And it can come at even a young age. I read of one case of someone under 40 who had it. But it's just ridiculous the amount of money you have to pay. At least they're doing something."

Not too small to keep records

We take exception to comments by a Madison Alderman Tuesday night that "we are just a small town and not a big corporation like General Motors." He appeared to be defending past city record-keeping and warning against spending much to improve it.

In this day and age, insufficient or non-existent records can be quite costly. Maybe a neighbor child's lemonade stand can omit them, but certainly not a municipal government. Points worthy of noting include:

— The city in 1984-85 did not depreciate its depreciable fixed assets, nor did it maintain adequate records of various assets.

— It defaulted technically on its shopping center revenue bonds, failing to establish reserves. This left the city vulnerable to bonds being called for immediate redemption.

— Generally-accepted auditing standards call for evaluation of a city's internal accounting controls in determining the nature, timing, and extent of other auditing procedures needed to (a) safeguard assets against loss from unauthorized use or disposition and (b) assure the reliability of financial records. Madison's internal system did not function effectively in many areas.

— To monitor compliance with the budget and to determine the city's fiscal position on a continuing basis, the City Council needs timely, accurate information — data that requires a general ledger. There was no such ledger, preventing data on an interim basis and making year-end data difficult to obtain.

— Monitoring of compliance with appropriations showed a serious lack of understanding or concern. Expenditures in excess of those approved could, and did, occur.

— There were no revisions as circumstances changed, and no periodic comparisons of year-to-date spending. This impaired officials' ability to gauge the financial health of the city and to make decisions critical to its continuing operations.

— There were misplaced or missing rental agreements, bank statements, canceled checks and personnel files. There were inconsistent or non-existent record retention policies.

— Receipts could either be deposited but unrecorded or not deposited at all and go undetected in the system.

— An $8,700 grant received in December 1984 was not deposited until June 1985.

— Amounts owed to the city for alarm and ambulance services were not readily available. There were no accurate lists of open accounts-receivable balances, no analysis of past-due accounts and no study of receivable delinquency trends.

— Checks were not pre-numbered and timely bank reconciliations did not occur. Checks were held for up to two weeks before being released.

— There was no independent check over assets through separation of custodial and accountability duties.

— Rental income and sales were not effectively monitored to ensure compliance with lease agreements.

— The city did not monitor its cable television franchise agreement to ensure that 3 percent of gross subscriber revenue reached the city treasury.

— When unusual or significant payments were made to employees, they were combined with total salaries instead of being specifically identified.

— The city did not levy a tax sufficient to meet police pension requirements; the shortfall has reached $98,173.

— Such an accumulation of practices and non-practices is worrisome, and deserves wholehearted remedial efforts. Fortunately, most Madison officials have set that as their goal. The cost of not "putting their house in order" could be prohibitive.

Education must have educators

The good news, as new State Education Superintendent Ted Sanders sees it, is that average scores of Illinois students on the Scholastic Aptitude Test (SAT) and the American College Test (ACT) continue to rank above national figures.

The bad news he mentions is that many students with the highest scores are avoiding careers in education. As the preservice corps of teachers ages and shortages of instructors begin to develop, it will be vital to attract many new teachers and to make sure they are highly skilled.

Scores on the SAT, administered by the College Board, and the ACT, conducted by the American College Testing Program, are based on the performance of high school seniors who graduated in 1985. Results of the two tests have just been released.

On the SAT, the mean achievement scores for Illinois seniors of 488 on the verbal test and 528 on the mathematics test were 37 and 47 points, respectively, higher than the national average. Illinois' 1985 average ACT composite of 18.9 was 0.3 point above the national average of 18.6.

When these results are compared with 1984, Illinoisans gained five points on the verbal test and four points on the math test. The national results showed the same gains, from 426 to 431 and from 471 to 475.

"I'm pleased our students outperformed U.S. and Midwest averages, but I'm disappointed only 3.7 percent of seniors taking the SAT (3.9 percent in 1984) plan careers in education," Sanders said this week. "Even more disturbing is that those planning education careers have scores averaging 425 on the verbal test and 465 on the math test. Illinois students considering careers in other professions had higher average scores in almost every other field. The onus is on educators to encourage able students to seek school careers."

We agree with Sanders on two points:

1. The educational reforms being launched this year — some of them signed into law yesterday — can enhance the academic achievement of nearly all Illinois students.

2. But as this improvement occurs, the overall outlook for the educational process will remain clouded unless education itself can recruit many of "the best and the brightest." The shortage of qualified teachers is not a crisis today, but it soon could be.

The present formula of appointed board members and an appointed superintendent "has taken education out of the hands of the people," Friedrich said.

Last month the State Board of Education approved a pay hike for Superintendent Ted Sanders, raising his annual salary to $90,000, plus pension benefits and a car that has an annual value of $7,000.

Friedrich was a delegate to the Constitutional Convention that drafted the 1970 constitution changing the superintendent's post from an elective to an appointive position.

Friedrich opposed the shift at that time.

"When it was an elective position," he said, "the superintendent was responsive to the Legislature, the school boards and the general public."

"The appointed system was touted as a way to take education out of the political arena. But instead, it has taken education out of the hands of the people."

In the 10 years that the state has had appointed school chiefs, he said, "not one superintendent has been from Illinois. That's a slap in the face for Illinois schools. It implies that no one from Illinois is capable of running our schools."

I think some of the problem is the impact drivers in cars in the school area, too. A policeman in the area would help both the motorists and the students to take their turns properly.

No one can expect the traffic flow to be "normal," as the paper stated, when a couple of hundred students are let out of school all at one time after seven long hours of study.

I agree that students who continue jaywalk should be fined or ticketed. But I think the paper should apologize to the 4- or 5 students pictured, and to their parents. They were not guilty of jaywalking.

I think the paper should take a picture of the offenders of the act of jaywalking and not just of a random group of students who happen to be crossing the street.

CUB letter's credibility, accuracy lacking

To the Editor:

I don't normally respond to letters to the editor even when I am convinced some of the information is inaccurate.

The recent letter from Ray Hollmann, district director of CUB (Citizens Utility Board) regarding industrial utility rates is so riddled with misinformation, I feel obligated to our customers to set a few of the facts straight.

QUOTE: "A recent loss of steel capacity in Granite City related to the Union Electric rate hike reminds us that factory jobs are related to utility rates."

FACT: Union Electric does not sell electricity in Granite City.

QUOTE: "A parent company shut down a steel plant in the Chicago area because of the high cost of power from Commonwealth Edison and shifted steel production to its plant in Ohio where utility rates were cheaper from, guess who, Commonwealth Edison."

FACT: Commonwealth Edison does not sell electricity in Ohio.

QUOTE: "Since electric rates are 70 percent higher in Illinois than in Michigan, we did not have a prayer's chance of getting the new General Motors Saturn auto plant."

FACT: Illinois Power Company industrial electric rates are an average of 30.4 percent cheaper than the major utility companies serving in Michigan.

The point has little relevance, in that the automobile plant went to Tennessee anyway for reasons other than utility costs.

QUOTE: "Let's face it. High utility rates in Illinois, the highest in the Midwest, are costing us jobs."

FACT: This statement is absolutely false. It is interesting that a CUB director would submit this statement to the press when CUB would not put it in their testimony under oath. The reason being, it is not supported by the facts."

Illinois Power Company has respect for the potential role that CUB might someday fill. However, to fulfill that role they must first establish credibility based on truthful and accurate statements and activities. Representations such as Director Hollmann's letter fall far short of the mark.

Over time, the cost of a kilowatt hour of electricity from Illinois Power has been the best buy in the household budget and remains so today.

Bipartisan group urges school election

SPRINGFIELD — On the heels of a recent 32.5 percent pay hike for the Illinois school superintendent, a bipartisan group of legislators has called for action to let voters decide if in the future the post should be filled by election or appointment.

House Joint Resolution 4, sponsored by five representatives, proposed an amendment to the state constitution that would abolish the state Board of Education and replace it with an elected superintendent of public instruction, who would be voted into a four-year term starting in 1988.

The joint resolution was sponsored by Rep. Dwight Friedrich, R-Centralia, and Reps. Dennis Hastert, R-Yorkville, Tom Ryder, R-Jessville, Richard Maulino, D-Spring Valley, and Bruce Richmond, D-Murphysboro.

Join drive against student drunk driving

To the Editor:

I attended the SADD (Students Against Driving Drunk) meeting at the high school auditorium. Out of the 3,000 students who attend school there, only about 75 parents showed up.

Isn't it nice to know we live in a community where hardly any of our teenagers drink and drive or know anyone who does? Wake up, Granite City. Find out something about the number one killer of our young people today.

If your son or daughter doesn't drink, terrific. But you can bet they know someone who does.

There are going to be follow-up meetings and programs on this subject. Please, readers, don't wait until you are attending the funeral of a neighbor child or of your own child. Put things aside and make time for your teenagers. Their lives could depend on it.

Mayors say United Way enhances life here

To the Editor:

The Tri-Cities Area United Way is the major charitable organization serving the needs of thousands of area residents.

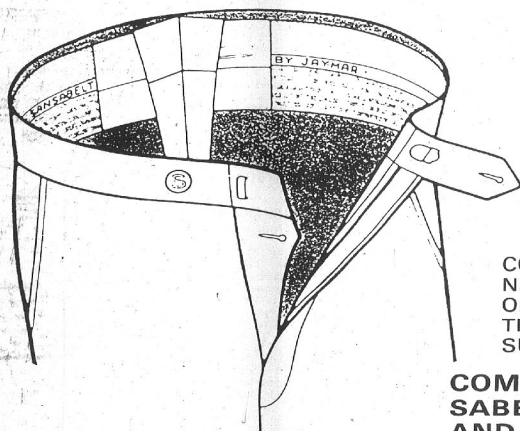

The United Way and its 15 agencies represent a joining of citizens of all ages, creeds, races and economic status for a common cause. The Tri-Cities Area United Way through its 15 agencies represents a broad range of social, health and other activities which enhance the quality of life of the Tri-Cities area.

It began its annual campaign for funds on Sept. 17 through the efforts of hundreds of volunteers. We, the mayors of Granite City, Madison and Venice, have proclaimed this to be Tri-Cities Area United Way month in our communities.

We endorse the efforts of the Tri-Cities Area United Way and urge the citizens of our respective communities to do the same.

Marie Klug

Mrs. Marie (DeRousse) Klug, 78, of Toledo, Ohio, formerly of Granite City, died Thursday, Sept. 22, 1985, at a Toledo hospital.

Born June 27, 1907, in Granite City, Mrs. Klug was a lifelong resident of this area until moving to Toledo a year ago.

She was a member of Sacred Heart Catholic Church in Granite City.

Mrs. Klug was preceded in death by her husband, John Klug. Survivors include a niece, Mrs. Donald (Sissy) Breier of Toledo.

After cremation in Ohio, graveside services will be held at 1 p.m. Saturday, Sept. 28, at Calvary Cemetery, Edwardsville Township.

Albert Williams

Albert B. Williams, 63, of 2301 Nameoki Road was pronounced dead at his home at 7:25 a.m. Wednesday, Sept. 25, 1985, by Dick Mizell, Madison County deputy coroner.

He was found without signs of life by a friend, who called the authorities. Mr. Williams was under the care of a physician and his death is believed to have been from natural causes.

Arrangements are pending at Mercer Mortuary, 1416 Niedringhaus Ave., Granite City. The telephone number for information is 876-5521.

HELEN GEROFF. She died at 8:30 a.m. Sept. 21 at St. Elizabeth Medical Center.

Funeral rites were held Monday, Sept. 23, at Holy Trinity Bulgarian Orthodox Church, Madison, with burial at Sunset Hill Cemetery.

MOTORCYCLIST INJURED

Robert L. Bruzalis, 26, of 2704 Emree St. was hurt Sept. 19 when his motorcycle left the roadway and hit a Nesco Steel Barrel Co. fence at Madison and 18th Streets. Taken to St. Elizabeth Medical Center, he was charged with failing to reduce speed to avoid an accident and driving with a suspended license.

Fire caused power outage

A utility pole that caught on fire Wednesday night was the cause of a power outage in parts of Pontoon Beach, Arlington Heights and Collinsville.

A spokesman for Illinois Power Co. said the pole was on Illinois Route 162 about 1.5 miles west of Illinois Route 157. The fire caused a conductor to fall, affecting the power in approximately 2,000 homes.

Most of the problems were in the north and west parts of Collinsville, the spokesman said. Fairmount Race Track was also affected, curtailing about half of its horse racing program.

The power outage lasted from 8:45 p.m. to 9:14 p.m. There also were a few homes in Arlington Heights which did not get power back until 9:57 p.m., the spokesman said.

Services today for William Hering, 87

William H. Hering, 87, of Hamel, Ill., the father of a former local resident, died at 6:50 p.m. Monday, Sept. 23, 1985, at Wood River Township Hospital. He was hospitalized five weeks.

Mr. Hering retired in 1974 as manager of Hamel Oil Co., where he was employed 51 years.

He was born in Madison County and resided most of his life in the Hamel area. He was a member of St. Paul Lutheran Church in Hamel.

Among the survivors are his wife, Mrs. Olga Hering; a daughter, Mrs. Dennis (Lucille) Hunnicutt of Jacksonville, Ark.; a Granite City resident until recently; two sons, Paul Hering of Staunton and Melvin Hering of Hamel; a sister, Mrs. Frieda Hunnicutt of Staunton; three stepdaughters, eight grandchildren and five great-grandchildren.

The Rev. W. W. Dressler conducted services at 1:30 p.m. today, Sept. 26, at St. Paul Lutheran Church. Burial was at St. Paul Lutheran Cemetery, Hamel. Visitation was at Dauderman Mortuary in Hamel.

Stella Crake, 92, Edwardsville, dies

Stella H. (Huffman) Crake, 92, of Edwardsville, formerly of Dupo, died at 3:52 a.m. Wednesday, Sept. 25, 1985, at Wood River Township Hospital.

Mrs. Crake was born Feb. 2, 1893, in Grand Tower, Ill., and was a member of First Congregational Church of Dupo. She was preceded in death by her husband, Thomas C. Crake, June 4, 1962.

Survivors include one son, Paul Crake of Granite City; one sister, Laura Crow of LaGrange Park, Ill.; two granddaughters and four great-grandchildren.

Visitation will be held from 3 to 9 p.m. today, Sept. 26, at Dasher Funeral Home, 400 S. Main St., Dupo, with services there at 11 a.m. Friday, Sept. 27. Burial will be at Walker Hill Cemetery in Grand Tower.

to complete the cable system. Also, extra gasoline was used for the trucks to deliver material to sites for the cable program completion and installation of parts for the cable line," he said.

"Mike, you said you asked for a meeting with me. Is it not true that I told you there was no need for a meeting, as I would give you the floor at the council meeting tonight to give your explanation?" Mayor John Bellico asked. Macek replied this was true.

The mayor asked Macek about a $5,000 expenditure for the alarm computer, noting the warranty had lapsed.

MACEK REPLIED the equipment was purchased in February 1981 or 1982 and, due to legal problems at the time, the equipment was not installed. When the time came for repairs, the warranty had lapsed, so the city was obliged to pay the cost of the repairs.

Alderman Garrett said, "I don't think we (the council) ever thought the alarm system would break even. This is a service, just like the police department. It was started to protect the people, not make a profit."

Treasurer Bathon responded that the alarm program is being utilized by businesses and senior citizens. Other residents, many of whom are not served by the alarm system, are helping pay for it through their taxes, he said.

"THIS IS NOT LIKE the police department because the police offer service to all people and the alarm system is used by only those who want it," Bathon said.

Garrett reiterated, "If the council thinks the voters should have an alarm system, they should not expect it to be a service to make money."

Another issue discussed at the meeting was investment of city funds during periods before they are expended.

Bathon told the council that, as treasurer, he takes funds as they become idle and looks for the best investment he can find at the time for the benefit of the city.

GUSHEFF OBJECTED to this, saying he thinks when monies are available they should be put out for bids, with information brought to the council, the aldermen then selecting which investment they think would be best.

Bathon said it was his job to take care of the funds and investments and, at times, there would not be a chance to inform the council and wait for its decision.

"This administration inherited $100,000 debt for new city vehicles, and the city is going to have financial troubles unless we can use every available fund for best results," he said.

GUSHEFF TOLD Bathon he trusted him to take care of the money for the city, but that he was still of the opinion that aldermen should make any decision on choosing where investments should be made.

Larry Hartman, the city attorney, said Bathon was within his rights, as treasurer, to follow his procedure on investments.

Grieve told the council, "I think we should get reports on a monthly basis so we know where the money is going and how much we have to work with."

BATHON EMPHASIZED this was the job of the city comptroller and said the comptroller could prepare monthly financial reports once the new accounting system is in operation.

The mayor told the aldermen the alarm program will be discussed at greater length at an October council meeting.

House Bill 304, which amends the Act on Aging to authorize the Department on Aging to administer three-year pilot projects for provision of services to victims of Alzheimer's. The initiative consists of day support for victims, establishing an Alzheimer's Task Force and a sabbatical program.

House Bill 305 and Senate Bill 386, legislation that requires medical examiners and coroners to be better able to diagnose Alzheimer's as a cause of death through training and education. With more informed autopsy findings, more information would be made available on the causes and effects of Alzheimer's, it is felt.

In addition to supplementing the Alzheimer's Disease Assistance Act, the measures also require the viding that property held by a spouse after an equal division of marital property or transfer of interest in a home shall not be considered in determining the eligibility for medical assistance unless federal law or regulation requires such consideration.

House Bill 305 and Senate Bill 386, which amend the Illinois Act on the Aging to create an Alzheimer's Task Force. Appointed by the governor, the 12-member task force will evaluate the health and medical assistance programs and needs of state agencies with regard to how they could better serve victims of Alzheimer's. The task force also will sponsor a statewide conference on Alzheimer's within a year after the law takes effect.

PONTOON BEACH — The third time was not a charm for developer Darrell Layman. Layman's resubdivided plat of Georgetown Drive in Lakeview Estates was rejected by the Village Board of Trustees Tuesday. It was the third time Layman had asked the board's approval of the resubdivision.

THE BOARD rejected the plat Aug. 29 because it did not show curbs and gutters for drainage.

A new plat, accompanied by a drawing of the curb and guttering to be installed around a cul-de-sac at the end of Georgetown Drive, was submitted Sept. 10.

Because trustees still questioned the new lot sizes, that plat was held until it could be checked by the village's consulting engineer, John Hales of Sheppard, Morgan and Schwaab Inc.

The trustees rejected the plat Tuesday because the lots don't have the required frontage.

"I KNOW some of you don't like the configuration of the lots, but the code is set up that if they meet the minimum standards, there's not a lot you can do about it," Hales told the trustees. "I haven't asked them to go over (the plat), but their engineer says they (the lots) have the minimum 6,000 square feet in them."

However, Hales found the frontage width on the lots was 27 feet, short of the village ordinance requirement of 30 feet.

Layman said he could widen the frontage by enlarging the curb in front of the lots.

"WHAT HE SAYS is true. As he enlarges the curb, it will become a longer frontage line," Hales said.

But Trustee Lou Whitsell objected to Layman's overall plan to resubdivide the original six lots to eight lots around the cul-de-sac.

"You are vacating a subdivision and submitting a new subdivision," Whitsell said.

Three teachers recalled in GC

Three teachers were recalled to duty by the Granite City School Board at the Sept. 24 meeting.

Terry Salem, administrative assistant in charge of personnel, recommended the recalls based on six-day enrollment figures in the district. Recalled were Eva Podnar, a kindergarten/middle primary teacher at Wedringhaus School, and Joyce Sullivan, a kindergarten teacher at Frohardt and Mitchell schools.

Linda Irwin was recalled as a middle intermediate teacher at Parkview School because the board approved a leave of absence for the 1985-86 school year to Betty Roberts. The school system has a list of honorably dismissed teachers from which it fills vacancies.

Kae Robbins, a kindergarten teacher at Webster School, also was granted a leave of absence, effective Oct. 15 until Jan. 17, 1986.

The board amended the retirement date of Dorothy Hamilton, a secretary at the board office, from June 30, 1986, to Dec. 31, 1985, as she requested.

Action was withheld until a further date on a request by Thomas Oram Sr. to move his retirement date from May 18, 1986, to Sept. 30, 1985.

STATUTES have provisions requiring that the vacating of plats not infringe on the rights of the existing lot owners, Whitsell said.

"This is a resubdividing of existing lots. This is not a vacating," said James Stuart, Layman's engineer.

Whitsell also said some homes have been built on the resubdivided lots, before the resubdivision was approved by the Village Board.

LAYMAN SAID he has building permits for two of the homes, but has not obtained permits for homes on three other lots in the cul-de-sac.

Village attorney Keith Jensen recommended the board reject the plat because the frontage line did not meet the village ordinances.

"All I know is I'm trying to solve a lot of problems for a lot of people," Layman responded. "Every time I come in here, I'm told to do this and do that and you'll approve it."

"THIS IS THE third time I've come in with new drawings. I've paid engineers and attorneys to get this done. Everything you say to do, I run back and do it and you say it's wrong again," Layman said.

Trustees Bob Abel and Keith Biggs voted against rejecting the plat.

At that point, the board voted to submit the plat to Hales so he can determine whether the lots meet the village's minimum lot size standards of 6,000 square feet.

LAYMAN SAID he will resubmit the plat to Hales.

"I've got to. I've got $10 million invested in it," he said.

Georgetown to be paved

By SUSANNE INDELICATO
Staff writer

PONTOON BEACH — After months of attending Village Board meetings and asking for help, residents along Georgetown Drive are finally going to get a paved road.

The Village Board of Trustees voted Tuesday to cancel the village's $4,000 contract with C.D. Peters to chip and seal Georgetown Drive and instead allow Nameoki Township to pave the road.

"You can use motor fuel tax funds and have a better surface," said John Hales, the village's consulting engineer. "The township will use a paver and give the road a permanent surface. The highway commissioner sees no problem with it. Within the next week, you should see action on this."

Hales said Peters had also agreed to the plan.

"They'll (the township) have to prime the road, so don't drive fast when the oil's on there," Hales told residents attending the board meeting. "It is going to be an inconvenience to get you a good road."

He also advised residents the paving could only go down to Westgate Drive because the rest of the road is dirt, which won't take an asphalt base.

Hales estimated the paving would take two days to complete.

THE LAW AND YOU

BY RICK REED
Attorney At Law

In a divorce action, a spouse who does not work often wonders whether he or she is entitled to maintenance, which was formerly known as alimony. If a wife, for example, has not worked in a number of years, she may seek lifetime maintenance. The husband in this situation, however, is usually opposed to paying any support to the former spouse.

The question often arises as to what the Court will award a totally dependent spouse in this situation. One option is to award the non-working spouse what is known as "rehabilitative maintenance," which is designed to enable a formerly dependent spouse to acquire financial independence in the future. This provides the non-working person with financial help for a limited period of time and serves as a compromise solution in many instances.

In one recent case, a husband and wife were divorced after 20 years of marriage. His gross income as a lieutenant colonel in the Air Force was approximately $39,000 per year while the wife did not work at all and had no real job skills at the time of the divorce. She was awarded "rehabilitative maintenance" in the amount of $1000 per month to allow her to become self supporting. She had testified at trial that she intended to return to college to complete her undergraduate degree, and the Court felt that the husband should help provide for her reasonable needs during this period of economic rehabilitation.

More than two years later, the ex-husband returned to Court seeking to terminate his obligation to pay maintenance. He noted that his former wife had finished her college degree in accounting and was gainfully employed at a salary of $20,000 per year. The ex-wife opposed the termination of maintenance, and in support of her position she argued that her former husband no longer had to contribute to the educational expenses of his daughter and therefore had greater disposable income. She further noted that her monthly expenses exceeded her income and that she was not yet "making it" financially.

The Court in this case terminated the maintenance. They found that there was a change in the former wife's ability to support herself, and that the original goal of "rehabilitative maintenance" had been achieved. Under these circumstances, they did not feel the former husband should have to continue supporting his ex-wife.

Pontoon investigating mobile home park

By SUSANNE INDELICATO
Staff writer

PONTOON BEACH — A second mobile home park is under investigation by village officials for possible health and safety violations.

A Village Green Mobile Home Park at 3801 Lake Drive will be inspected by Pontoon Beach Health Officer Bob Douglas and Building Inspector Bill Morgan, Board President Glen Wilson said during Tuesday's Village Board of Trustees meeting.

A SAMPLE of the drinking water from the mobile home park was presented to the board by Trustee Don Rea. The water had a cloudy, rusty appearance. Rea described the water as having a "slight smell, possibly of sewage."

"One woman had what appeared to be open sewage under her trailer because of a faulty connection," Rea said. "Another resident showed me his electrical control box. It was held there simply by the service cables."

"We owe the residents of the mobile home park some protection. I recommend we have the health officer and building inspector make a tour and a list of violations, and we'll take legal action to correct it," he said.

MORGAN SAID some electrical repairs are taking place at the mobile home park, but some control boxes are "just hanging on."

"I think we should get hold of the general manager of the mobile home park and announce our intent," Rea said. "It's a privately owned mobile home park, and we've neglected it as public officials."

Meanwhile, village attorney Keith

Jensen said he had received an appeal from the owner of Cottontail Mobile Home Park, 4140 Division St. That park lost its business license during a license revocation hearing Sept. 5.

DURING THE HEARING, the case was heard and determined by Wilson. The appeal allows the case to be presented to the entire village board.

Pontoon Beach officials said weeds more than a foot tall and trash scattered in the mobile home park as reasons for revoking the business license. Health violation notices served prior to the hearing were ignored and had expired, village officials said.

Since the license revocation, conditions at the park have improved, according to David Harris, attorney for the park's owner, Max Shaffer.

NO DATE has been set for the appeal hearing, Jensen said.

Investors to tour county

Investors will tour Madison County on Oct. 1.

The Leadership Council of Southwestern Illinois, in cooperation with the Regional Commerce and Growth Association, will be hosting the tour.

The purpose is similar to a tour hosted jointly by the two organizations in May 1984 to highlight development opportunities — commercial, residential and industrial — within Madison County.

A tour with the same focus will be held in St. Clair County on Oct. 24. Activities Oct. 1 will begin with an 8:30 a.m. breakfast at the Collinsville Hilton Inn.

Serving our country

News of Quad-City area servicemen serving in the various branches of the U.S. military includes:

JOHN SELLERS

Marine Staff Sgt. John S. Sellers, son of Gerald L. Sellers, 1908 Lindell Blvd., recently participated in the Weapon Tactics instruction class at the Marine Corps Air Station in Yuma, Ariz. In the course, Sellers studied the use of weapons and tactics associated with the squadron's Huey and Cobra helicopters and the probable adversary these "copters" would meet on the battlefield. Some of the tactics included helicopter escort tactics, control of offensive air support and suppression of enemy air defense. Sellers is presently stationed with Marine Light Helicopter Squadron-367, 3rd Marine Aircraft Wing at the Marine Corps Base, Camp Pendleton, Calif. A 1981 graduate of Granite City High School North, he joined the Corps in June 1981.

KAREN TOUSSAINT

Second Lt. Karen M. Toussaint, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold E. Toussaint, 2564 Westmoreland Drive, has completed the U.S. Air Force mid-level indoctrination for medical service officers at Sheppard Air Force Base, Texas. This course acquaints newly commissioned medical personnel with professional and administrative responsibilities as Air Force officers.

Toussaint is scheduled to serve with the Air Force Hospital at Wright-Patterson Air Force Base, Ohio. She is a 1983 graduate of St. Louis University School of Nursing.

Her husband, Air Force 2nd Lt. John M. Gross, is the son of Francis A. Gross of O'Fallon, Ill.

JEFFREY HOPKINS

Jeffrey R. Hopkins, son of Mrs. Melva R. Hopkins, 2161 Monroe St., has been promoted in the U.S. Army to the rank of specialist four.

Hopkins is a wheeled-vehicle mechanic in West Germany with the 2nd Support Command. He is a 1983 graduate of Granite City High School.

TYRONE BRANCH

Marine Pvt. Tyrone E. Branch, a 1981 graduate of Madison High School, has completed recruit training at the Marine Corps Recruit Depot in San Diego.

Branch joined the Marine Corps in March 1985. In the 11-week training cycle, the local man participated in an active physical conditioning program and gained proficiency in a variety of military skills, including first aid, rifle marksmanship and close order drill.

Teamwork and self-discipline were emphasized in the training period and the personal and professional standards, traditionally exhibited by Marines, were emphasized.

JOHN BALL JR.

Pvt. John L. Ball Jr., son of Mrs. Ella P. Ball, 108 Venice Homes, Venice, has completed basic training at Fort Bliss, Texas.

Ball is a 1985 graduate of Venice High School. He received instruction in weapons, map reading, tactics, military courtesy and justice, first aid and Army history and traditions.

STACEY PYLE

Airmen Stacey L. Pyle, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James W. (Connie) Pyle, 2131 Hodges Ave., has been assigned to Keesler Air Force Base, Miss.

She recently completed basic training at Lackland Air Force Base near San Antonio, Texas, and earned credits toward an associate degree through the Community College of the Air Force.

Pyle will now receive specialized training in the administration field. She is a 1985 graduate of Granite City High School.

ROGER SUTTON II

Army Pvt. Roger D. Sutton II, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roger D. (Regenia D.) Sutton, 17 Iris Ave., Fontaine Beach, has arrived for duty at Fort Hood, Texas.

A 1985 graduate of Granite City High School, Sutton is an infantryman with the 1st Cavalry Division. He was assigned previously at Fort Benning, Ga.

CHRISTOPHER DEURUNTZ

Christopher Deuruntz, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gene Deuruntz of Granite City, recently enlisted in the U.S. Navy's Delayed Entry Program.

The enlistment ceremony took place at the St. Louis Military Enlistment Processing Station. Deuruntz, a 1985 graduate at Granite City High School, enlisted for training as an aviation structural mechanic.

"The Navy offers training in more than 100 career fields, including numerous mechanical and technical opportunities," said Chief Jim Bauer, Navy recruiter in Granite City.

The Delayed Enlistment Program gives a person up to one year before they report for active duty, the recruiter noted.

TERESA BYARS

Army Sgt. Teresa M. Byars, daughter of James A. Willoughby, 1915 Benton St., and Doris S. Willoughby of Jacksonville, Ill., has completed the 14-week Radio Teletypewriter Operator course at the U.S. Army Signal Center at Fort Gordon, Ga.

Byars is scheduled to serve at Fort Wainwright in Alaska. She is married to Ralph Byars Jr., whose father lives in Hickory, Ky.

The sergeant is a 1977 graduate of Jacksonville High School.

LICENSES REVOKED ON DUI CONVICTIONS

The Illinois Secretary of State's office has revoked the drivers licenses for conviction on driving while under the influence of alcohol of:

Michael J. Messick, 26, of 2141 Cleveland Blvd., who was arrested out-of-state July 13 and convicted July 16.

Eddie E. Schultz, 19, of 1746 Chestnut St., who was arrested June 22 and convicted Aug. 26.

They were among 10 Madison County motorists whose licenses were revoked, according to the state's DUI report for the week ending Sept. 14.

Mark Planitz

Jesse Planitz

Planitz sons meet;
now home on leave

VALERIE EVENEDEN Staff writer

For the first time in three years, the sons of AN Jesse R. Planitz, U.S. Navy, and his brother, Petty Officer Mark A. Planitz, U.S. Coast Guard, have crossed in California.

The unexpected reunion was enjoyed by the Granite City servicemen, according to their family here.

Coincidentally, since that meeting, both men arranged leave time and arrived home this week in Granite City. They had not been home on furlough at the same time for three years.

When the California get-together occurred, Jesse, 25, had just arrived back in the United States after a six-month tour of duty in the Indian Ocean on the aircraft carrier USS Constellation.

Mark, meanwhile, had been on the Coast Guard cutter Cherokee, based at Norfolk, Va., and was sent to Petaluma, Calif., to attend Yeoman's School. He received promotion to his present rank during the schooling.

While aboard the Constellation, Jesse visited ports in Hawaii, the Philippine Islands, Singapore, Africa and Australia.

He is now stationed at LeMoore, Calif., where he will remain until the "Connie" leaves for sea duty again. As a member of the Cherokee crew, Mark, 24, took part in six months' search and rescue duty, ranging between Nova Scotia and Key West, Fla.

The ship's crew was involved in confiscation of a large illegal cargo, an action for which the vessel and men received a citation.

The Coast Guardsmen also were cited for the capture of several hundred illegal aliens, who were transported back to Haiti.

Mark is presently assigned to the Marine Safety Office in Paducah, Ky.

The servicemen are the sons of Mrs. Ruth Ann Oster, 794K Old Alton Road, and Jerome J. Planitz Sr., 2229 Washington Ave.

Both brothers attended high school in Granite City. Jesse joined the U.S. Navy in January 1963. Mark enlisted in the U.S. Coast Guard in May 1984.

While home on leave for the next two weeks, Mark and Jesse are also visiting another brother, Jerome Planitz Jr., and their two sisters, Kim Edwards and Ramona Gant.

FARM AID:

Awareness of farmers' plight

WILLIE NELSON thanks the crowd.

More than 50 top country, rock'n'roll and blues performers played virtually non-stop music Sunday during the "Concert for America" in Champaign, Ill.

More than 80,000 filled Memorial Stadium on the University of Illinois campus to hear 14 hours of music, surpassed only by the Live Aid concert in July.

Willie Nelson, John Cougar Mellencamp and Neil Young were the musical force behind the FarmAid concert, which has raised approximately $10 million. Although sums of up to $50 million had been mentioned as a possible goal for the FarmAid effort, Nelson said repeatedly that the money was not the main reason for the concert; attention to the plight of America's farmers was more important.

Despite soaking rains for several hours, the crowd and the performers persevered and finished the concert on time and without any major problems or incidents.

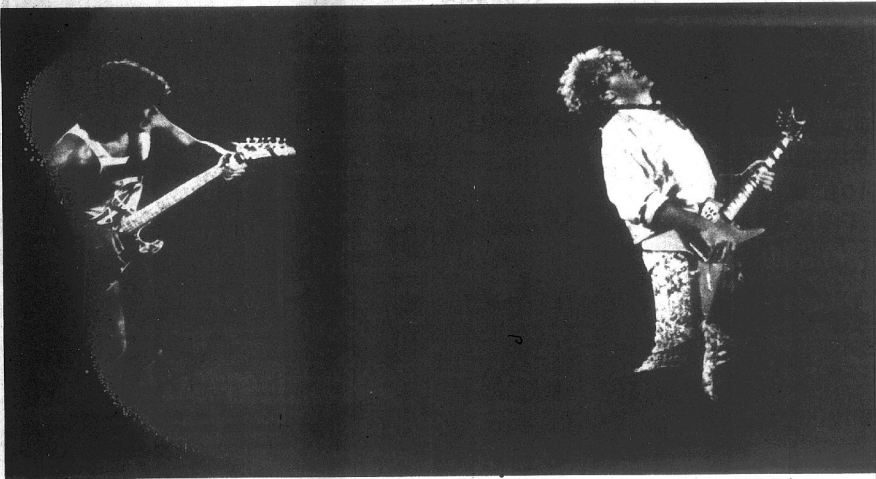

It was an event to be remembered and a cause that cannot ever be forgotten.

FOREIGNER performs "I Want To Know What Love Is."

KING OF THE BLUES, B.B. King plays his guitar "Lucille."

FOR THE FIRST TIME ON STAGE, Eddie Van Halen, left, and the "Red Rocker," Sammy Hagar, play a rock'n'roll duet.

KENNY ROGERS performs a medley of his hits.

MEMORIAL STADIUM at the University of Illinois in Champaign is filled with a capacity crowd of more than 80,000 for 14 hours of non-stop music.

Hawks ground Trojans

By GREGG OCHOA
Staff writer

MADISON — So far this season has been a like a roller coaster for the Madison High School soccer team. Trojan coach Gene Briggs hopes the ride gets better.

Waterloo Gibault parlayed an early Trojan mistake resulting into a quick goal and bounced Madison 3-1 in a Mid South Conference game Tuesday afternoon.

"It's been a year of mistakes," admitted Briggs. "It's really quite a simple problem: everytime we commit an error the other team scores. We could play 78 minutes of good, fundamental soccer, and two minutes of mistakes. And, those two minutes will cost us."

Tuesday's game wasn't even a minute old when the Hawks were credited with a goal. Junior Jim Shields sent a looping ball into the Trojans' zone. Madison fullback Bryce Ankron's attempted clearing header ended up in rolling in the goal.

Briggs didn't even see the goal, but later explained what happened. "(Ankron) told me he wanted to play the ball wide but misjudged it. Instead he made a beautiful sliding header into the goal," the coach said.

Briggs, however, didn't want to point any fingers at the loss. "My varsity is limited. A lot of the mistakes are inexperience. But they are trying."

Gibault scored a second-quarter goal when Tim Degener beat Trojan goalie Patrick Glasper to the left side of the net. The play was set up by Jeff Schreder's crossing pass.

Madison had some opportunities but missed connections. Early in first quarter, Mark Martinez direct kick sailed just inches over top of the goal.

The Hawks dominated most of the game and outshot Madison 16-5. It appeared early in the game the Trojans may have been bothered by Gibault's play. His hustling play seemed to make to the smaller Madison forwards hesitant while on the attack.

"I know one thing we weren't going that hard," Briggs said. "Whether we were intimidated or not I couldn't tell. The main problem is we were backing off on offense and there is no way you can score doing that."

Up 2-0 at the half, the Hawks took a 3-0 lead about two minutes into the third quarter when a mix-up in the Trojan backfield left Degener unmarked. Degener's shot from about seven yards out slipped under Glasper's right arm.

Near the end of the third quarter Martinez took a pass from Delaren Young, dribbled around a Gibault defender and scored.

"I thought I was going to goof up," Martinez said of the goal. "I trailed the ball too far back but got it."

The final quarter was played pretty even. Both teams had some chances, but neither could score.

The win upped Gibault's record to 4-5. Madison fell to 1-5.

Madison's lone victory this season was a 2-0 win at Waterloo in the season opener. It was the school's first shutout in two years. Terrence Hicks and Sean Mosby got the goals.

"We really dominated the game," said Briggs. "We played very well as a whole team."

AGAINST a scrappy Bethalto squad the Trojans saw a 4-2 lead disintegrate and dropped a 5-4 decision in double overtime.

Mosby scored twice while Hicks and Kenny Ingram added goals for Madison.

"I think we might have lost a little bit of confidence after that game," Briggs said.

Still smarting after the loss to the Eagles, Madison lost to Maplewood 2-1 despite a fine effort in goal by Clarence Williams, a defender who was pressed into service after Glasper was sidelined with the flu.

Injuries have slowed the Trojans thus far with as many as six starters banged up. Among the wounded are Hicks (mouth contusion); Ingram (sprained ankle) and Young (groin pull).

"BUT THEY are out there playing. Instead of crying about it on the bench they are out there on the field," Briggs said.

But, it has been the mistakes which have put a hex on the Trojans. Briggs hopes Madison can cut down on the errors.

"We have a lot of people who are playing well, but the trick to soccer is consistency."

Madison will host Westminster Christian today and visits Roxana on Friday. Both games will start at 4 p.m.

6-3, Williams, who breezed through the first set, lost her concentration in the second set before gathering herself to secure the victory in the third set.

SECOND singles action saw the vivacious Linda Briner score an easy two-set victory over the Crusaders' Kathleen McAleen. Briner, who was sporting new eyeglasses, turned back McAleen 6-4, 6-1.

In third singles action, Andrea Suarez had her hands full with Ann Rasure. Rasure wasted little time in ending the two-set match, handily winning 6-2, 6-2.

The Warriors got back on the winning track in fourth singles as Sandy Taylor bettered Laura Voellinger in straight sets, 6-1, 6-0. Taylor served and volleyed her way by Voellinger effectively using the passing shot en route to her victory.

WHILE the Warriors proved most effective in singles action, the Crusaders earned some respect of their own in doubles action, sweeping all three. In fact, that sweep proved to be the difference in winning and losing.

In first doubles, Dawn Bowers and Jima Gonzales lost a two-set match to Ann Rasure and Christie Yausser, 6-2, 6-0. The taller Althoff duo used their height to their advantage, reaching and scoring with overheads and passing shots.

Second doubles was where the Warriors gave the Crusaders their toughest doubles challenge. Julie Gabriel and Jaymie Seibert battled Kristin Rowan and Jennifer Sprague to a 6-2, 6-4 setback.

THE LEGAL duo started slow, but came on in the second set to threaten a third set, but fell short of their bid.

THE CHASE. Madison soccer player Clarence Williams (right) chases Waterloo Gibault's Tim Descher during the second quarter of Tuesday's Mid South Conference clash. The Hawks scored a 3-1 victory over Madison. The Trojans next outing is today when they host Westminster Christian. Gametime is at 4 p.m.

Althoff bruises ego; Warriors fail to jayvees

By ALAN L. GERSTENECKER

GRANITE CITY — Few tennis coaches in Southwestern Illinois have more respect for Belleville teams than Granite City High School's Dick Harmon.

Harmon, who has been the Warriors' boys tennis coach for 30 years and the girls' coach for three years, has spent half of his life battling the bullish Belleville tennis squads.

Tuesday afternoon at the Warriors' home courts on Grand Ave., Harmon and his netters were reminded just how difficult one Belleville opponent — Belleville Althoff — can be. The Crusaders edged the Warriors 4-3 and dropped their season record to an even 4-4.

BUT AS bad as another loss was to the "country clubbing" Althoff, what made matters worse was the Warriors lost to the Crusaders' junior varsity squad.

"We really felt like we had a shot," Harmon said. "We should've won all the singles and at least one of the doubles. I was thinking more of a score of 5-2 with us winning and not a 4-3 loss," Harmon said.

Dick Harmon
Warrior tennis coach

As it was the Warriors won first, second and fourth singles only. The Crusaders won third singles and swept the three doubles pairings.

GRANITE CITY does not make it a habit of pairing varsity against jayvee and it wouldn't have been the case Tuesday had it not been for a scheduling conflict with Althoff.

According to Crusader coach Mary Kloess, Althoff had apparently overscheduled itself. According to guidelines established by the Illinois High School Association, teams are restricted to a 16-2 schedule — 16 regular-season games and two tournaments. The Crusaders' matchup with the Warriors Tuesday would have exceeded the IHSA's guidelines. Hence, the pairing was downgraded by Althoff and made a jayvee contest.

"WE FELT like we would've got more out of playing their jayvee anyway," Harmon said. "The Belleville schools are so tough. Their varsity would have really given us a rough time. This way we get the opportunity to hit with someone on our own caliber," Harmon said.

The difference, Harmon said, in the two teams is the Belleville schools year round dedication to tennis. Nearly all the Crusaders' players play at Oak Hills, a prestigious indoor tennis club located in Belleville.

In first singles, Marcia Williams, playing in her first match since straining her left knee two weeks ago, bettered Barb Whitehead 6-4, 2-6, 6-3. Williams, who breezed through the first set, lost her concentration in the second set before gathering herself to secure the victory in the third set.

SECOND singles action saw the vivacious Linda Briner score an easy two-set victory over the Crusaders' Kathleen McAleen. Briner, who was sporting new eyeglasses, turned back McAleen 6-4, 6-1.

In third singles action, Andrea Suarez had her hands full with Ann Rasure. Rasure wasted little time in ending the two-set match, handily winning 6-2, 6-2.

The Warriors got back on the winning track in fourth singles as Sandy Taylor bettered Laura Voellinger in straight sets, 6-1, 6-0. Taylor served and volleyed her way by Voellinger effectively using the passing shot en route to her victory.

WHILE the Warriors proved most effective in singles action, the Crusaders earned some respect of their own in doubles action, sweeping all three. In fact, that sweep proved to be the difference in winning and losing.

In first doubles, Dawn Bowers and Jima Gonzales lost a two-set match to Ann Rasure and Christie Yausser, 6-2, 6-0. The taller Althoff duo used their height to their advantage, reaching and scoring with overheads and passing shots.

Second doubles was where the Warriors gave the Crusaders their toughest doubles challenge. Julie Gabriel and Jaymie Seibert battled Kristin Rowan and Jennifer Sprague to a 6-2, 6-4 setback.

THE LEGAL duo started slow, but came on in the second set to threaten a third set, but fell short of their bid.

Had they won the second set, and forced a third, their chances of winning appeared to be good.

In an almost anti-climatic way, third doubles was a one-sided match favoring Althoff. Maghan Lombardi and Monica Reznack battled with Althoff's Stephanie Mirnik and Susan Heffrich only to emerge as 6-2, 6-1 victims. While the Warrior pair battled boldly, the Belleville duo more complete and more consistent game proved to be the difference.

Althoff's victory was the first for the Crusaders whose varsity squad boasts an 8-2 record, losing only to Clayton (Mo.) and Belleville West.

The Warriors, meanwhile, after losing to the Crusaders on Tuesday were looking to rebound against Southwestern Conference rival East St. Louis Wednesday and improve their league record to 3-1. The match, however, has been postponed because of inclement weather and has not yet been rescheduled.

Granite City is idle until Monday when they host SWC rival Belleville East for a 4 p.m. match.

For GCC Stars

Loss becomes confidence builder

GODFREY — The Granite City Center soccer team played perhaps one of its best games in the school's young history. However, the Stars came up just short.

No. 7 ranked Lewis and Clark Community College got a first-half goal from Mike Donnelly and took a 1-0 win in the junior college contest Wednesday afternoon.

"They've never really had a close game this year," Stars coach Larry Petri said of the Bucks. "I didn't know what was going to happen. When I saw the scores of their earlier games, I was just trying to play for the score not to be in double figures."

The Bucks outshot Granite City Center GCC 9-2 as goalie Brian Kastinger recorded the shutout. LCCC is now 9-0 with seven shutouts this season. The Stars fell to 5-3.

"They didn't jump out early and it may have frustrated them," Petri said.

The Stars coach knew his team would have to be in top form defensively.

"We wanted to play tough defense and try and get some counter attacks on offense," Petri said.

Granite City Center's strategy was to hound midfielder Donnelly, who Petri felt was the key to the Bucks offense.

"He's got a rocket (shot) and he opens up a lot of things for the other players. We had a man marking him all during the game," Petri said.

Still, with approximately six minutes left in the first half, Donnelly beat Stars goalie Chris Sondker from about 18 yards away.

Despite the loss, Petri saw some bright spots, noting the play of his defense and Sondker. The coach feels the Stars performance will be a lesson for the future.

"It's not just a loss," Petri said. "It could be the opportunity our program has waited for. For us to play a national caliber team in a tight game should be a real confidence builder."

The Stars are idle until this weekend. GCC plays East Central College on Saturday, Sept. 28 and host Sauk Valley on Sunday. Both games start at 4 p.m.

Trojans face first big test in Friday matchup with Dupo

By GREGG OCHOA
Staff writer

DUPLO — I know which Madison he will see this Friday night.

"I saw them play two times this year," said Mauser, the head football coach at Duplo. "They looked great against Columbia and bad against (Breesee) Central."

The outcome, however, was the same each time — a victory. Madison has fashioned three wins this season and looks to keep its unbeaten streak alive at Duplo (3-1).

Kick-off is 7:30 Friday night.

"No question this is our toughest game this season," said Madison coach Don Smith.

MADISON will be looking for its first victory in at least seven years against Duplo. Last year the Tigers escaped with a 6-2 come-from-behind win at Sam Dymas Memorial Field.

"Last year we were the better team, but I think the weather dictated the play," Mauser said. "This year, both teams match up well."

"I think the game is real crucial. This is the first time in a long while that Madison has a real shot at the playoffs."

For the Trojans, who compete as an independent, every victory is an important one. The Tigers, 9-2 last year, should offer Madison its first stern test of the year.

SINCE 1976, Duplo has qualified for the playoffs six times. Mauser has a 39-12 mark in five years at the school.

The Tigers were swamped by Assumption last week 42-21 and in the process lost running back Eric Furlow (325 yard and 2 TDs) with stretched ligaments in his knee. He will be out for approximately three weeks.

Center Mike Ryan, a junior, will take over as the starting fullback against Madison, Mauser said.

"He hasn't carried the ball at all this year, but he was the starting fullback on the sophomore team. So he has some experience."

QUARTERBACK Scott Tieman will handle the offense. Tieman has completed 9-of-15 tosses for 135 yards and two TDs. Tieman is double dead.

He has rushed for 255 yards. Madison will counter with Darnell Marshall behind center. Marshall is 6-07 for 161 yards this year.

Junior Angelo Cross is the Trojans' leading rusher with 259 yards. Fullback Daryle McCormick has scored four touchdowns.

"We have a powerful offense, but we were kind of down last week. The team was really disappointed in their performance," Smith said.

As eager as the offense has been, the Trojans defense has been better.

In three games Madison, has allowed just two points.

"They have worked so well together so far," Smith said. "Everybody is talking to each other and I think that is one of the main reasons we have done so well."

That opportunistic defense has also swiped six passes and recovered two fumbles. Reggie Young has three thefts and Willie Green has picked off two passes.

Dupo, on the other hand, is rebuilding its defense which features six juniors.

"OUR DEFENSE has allowed more points than it has in the past but a lot of that wasn't their fault. We had a lot of turnovers on offense," Mauser said.

Ryan, a linebacker and the team's leading tackler, anchors the defense, with Tim and Jim Siner, providing pass coverage.

Madison will enter the Duplo game relatively healthy. "We have a few pulls and some colds, but nothing major."

Smith feels it will be crucial for the Trojans to do well offensively early. "That is so important, it sets everything else up."

"Our kids really believe they are a better ball club," Smith said. "They thought they should have won last year's game."

Bubblemasters: A club for leisure, competition

By ALAN L. GERSTENECKER
Executive Sports Editor

Travel agents and various tourism boards have spent millions to get you to visit their "little corner" of the world.

Among the most obvious are such campaigns for "the islands," the Bahamas, Jamaica and the Florida Keys.

"It's Better In The Bahamas," they say. Jamaica, one of the more common vacation spots of the 1960's and 70's, is spending millions on an advertising campaign to get you to "Make It Jamaica, Again." Long, conspicuously empty, bleached-white beaches are always the stage for the alluring effect.

Enticing, yes.
Paradise-like, yes.
Expensive, absolutely.

My first experience to the lazy days of the tropics came in 1966 when my father, an Air Force career man, was stationed at Ramey Air Force Base in Puerto Rico. There 3½ years, I was neatly nestled into one of these "little corners" of the Caribbean.

It was then that I fell in love with skin and scuba diving and the wonders of the ocean below. At 12 years old, I used to spend the summers diving for starfish and Helmet shells with little more than a snorkel and mask. Unfortunately for my love of the ocean, my father elected to retire in the Midwest. Not that I don't like this area, but it's pretty difficult to do any serious diving in the Midwest. After a while my interest in the sea waned to more conventional Midwest-like hobbies such as baseball, football and tennis.

Recently, though, after a 16-year absence from diving, I re-certified. My wife, a Granite Citian, also took the certification. We had plans of spending a vacation in the Florida Keys, Belize or maybe even venture back to Puerto Rico and the Caribbean.

Our class instructor was noted diver and spearman Phil Lamm of Granite City.

It was Lamm, current top spearfisherman in the Midwest Dive Council, who introduced my wife and me to a local dive club, the Bubblemasters.

The Bubblemasters, now in their 26th year, are one of the biggest diving clubs in the Midwest. Consisting mostly of Granite Citians, they are a fun bunch and, as I also found out, don't need to make a 2,000 mile trip to Florida or farther to experience a good dive.

Finding a dive club in the Midwest amidst the industry and cornfields of Illinois was like finding an unregistered wreck in 35 feet of water — pretty remote, I thought.

Anyway, recently the club sponsored its fall dive and my wife and I, not yet members of the club, decided to make the dive. This particular dive was at Bull Shoals Lake, in southwestern Missouri and northwestern Arkansas.

A mere 4½ to five hours from St. Louis, it's the best dive find for Midwesterners. No, it doesn't have a visibility of 50-65 feet that you'll find in the Caribbean, but the 8-10 feet at Bull Shoals isn't too bad as I found out. And, the best part, is that it's relatively close.

A dive club AND a good dive location in the Midwest. I must be living right, as they say.

We left Granite City for the weekend dive about 3 p.m. Friday and arrived to a congested, packed campground at 9 p.m. Bill Shaefer, Bubblemasters club president, graciously reserved a spot, though, for my wife and I to set up camp.

After camp was established, Shaefer and Pete Fourcalt, a club officer and all around jack of all trades, helped with the introductions. There must've been nearly 60 club members and their families down there that weekend.

Aside from the fireside chats, stories of previous dives, and the unconventional squirrel hunting techniques by Harry Squires there was a lot of talk about the dive at hand. And, many as I found out, are serious spearfishermen.

While I was there for the obviously leisurely weekend of diving with an old friend that and his fiancée, most of the Bubblemaster divers were out for one and only one thing that weekend: club spearfishing competition. They take it pretty seriously.

In the skin diving competition, Greg Sanders was the winner as he brought in 17 fish totaling 78 pounds, 5 ounces and narrowly bested Ed Duffin who also shot 17 fish, but his total weight was a full pound less, 77 pounds, 5 ounces.

Darin Duffin was third in the skin competition, shooting a total of eight fish totaling 37 pounds six ounces. Tom and Jeff Mueller were fourth and fifth respectively as they each shot two and one fish for a total of nine pounds two ounces and five pounds 15 ounces respectively.

In the skin division, Bill Horton picked up first prize for the largest fish, a 10-pound 1-ounce, 45½-inch Gar he shot Saturday afternoon. The fish, incidentally, was a national skin diving record. Tim Murphy was second in the skin diving category with a catch of six pounds one ounce.

In the scuba division, Darin Duffin was tops for his efforts of 15 fish weighing 63-pounds 1 ounce. Ed Duffin followed with nine fish totaling just under 51 pounds.

Tom Mueller, Ron Yates and Tim Murphy were third, fourth and fifth respectively with catches of 34, 29 and 21 pounds.

Al Young shot the largest fish in the scuba division by totting home a fish weighing 10-pounds 2-ounces. He was followed by Bill Horton and Jerry Dresch who each turned in tallies of nine pounds and eight pounds, 13 ounces.

Bonnie Mahapp monopolized in the women's division by shooting one fish weighing six pounds.

In the children's fishing derby which preceded Saturday's competition, Steve Fourcalt won the 9-13 age group for the most fish by hauling in 38 followed by Jeremy Holgrave and Brenda Yates who each reeled in 14 and 12 fish respectively.

Marc Roter was noted as taking the largest. In the pee-wee division (0-8 years), Chris Hanson finished ahead of his brother Marion and Missy Fourcalt who finished third.

Dustin Sanders caught the largest fish to secure his place in the pee-wee division.

My first experience in diving a Midwest lake was a pleasant experience — good company and invigorating whether we dove for pleasure or competition. My earlier enthusiasm is renewed. When's the next dive, guys?

Beat Bethalto Spikers win second straight

By PAULA WISE
Staff writer

GRANITE CITY — After dropping the first game 13-15 to Bethalto Tuesday, the Granite City High School girls' volleyball team rallied to take the final games 15-12, 15-13 for their first victory over the Lady Eagles in three years.

The win was the second in a row for the Warriors, who defeated Alton last Thursday.

Early in the game it looked as if the Granite City varsity squad was going to repeat the easy win of the junior varsity team who had won earlier 15-1 15-2. However, Bethalto, who Granite City coach Wilma Schulze called a "scrappy little team" refused to give up.

"THEY WERE quite good on defense," Schulze said of the Bethalto players. "They had a lot of determination and they really worked to keep the ball off the floor."

"When you have someone who keeps blocking you and digging your spikes out, it psyches you out. That's what happened to us in the first game."

Fortunately for the Warriors, they were able to get their own game plan going in the second game. Aided by some erratic play by the Eagles, the Warriors captured the final two games and the match.

"They gave us several breaks because of their errors on offense. Their serving and passing was very wild," said the Granite City coach.

While Bethalto was struggling with their serving the Warriors capitalized on the serving of Betsy Barrington to grab the lead.

"Betsy got the momentum for us with her serving," Schulze said of her team captain. "I don't know how many serves she had but she really kept us going in the second and third games."

Beth Werthas was also named by the her coach as having an exceptional game.

"Beth had another good night," said Schulze. "She did a good job setting for the team and did some nice things defensively."

The Granite City team will be looking to Werthas even more this season as they change from their current 6-2 offense to a new 5-1 offense.

IN THE new line-up, Werthas will be the team's only setter. The Warriors' other setter Alicia Melton will move to the center hitting position in an effort to generate more offense. Lisa Mills will join the varsity squad as a universal player.

"I made the adjustment to correct a weakness we have been having on offense. I hope this change will make us a more balanced team," said the Granite City Coach.

"Most of the players already know this offense so it shouldn't be that much of a change."

The player who will be the key to this new offense will be Melton. If she is able to make the transition from setter to hitter it should improve the Warrior offense. Schulze is confident she can make the move successfully.

"ALICIA moves well. She's quick and jumps well," said Schulze. "We'd like to have a taller person there, but she's a good hitter and I think she'll do well."

"The only problem she may have is receiving serves. She hasn't done that all season, but I think she'll be able to make the adjustment."

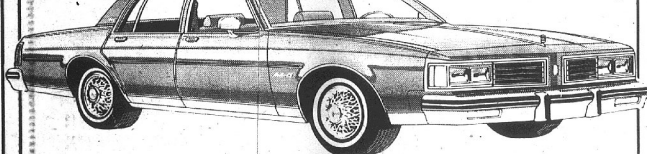

Granite City will display its new offense tonight against Belleville. The Warriors will travel to Belleville for a 6:30 p.m. contest.

Captain and Mrs. Stephen Kiger

Salvation Army welcomes Captain and Mrs. Kiger

Captain and Mrs. Stephen L. Kiger have assumed their duties at the Salvation Army, 3007 E. 23rd St., and are engaged in launching religious and fellowship programs to benefit the community.

They reside at 3200 Edgewood Ave. with their three children. Capt. Stephen Kiger, a native of Cape Girardeau, Mo., and Capt. Pamela D. Kiger, originally from Chicago, have served as corps officers for the Salvation Army for 10 years.

Following their ordination in 1975 from the Salvation Army's School for Officers' Training in Chicago, they were appointed to serve in Joplin, Mo. They later served at Columbia, Mo., and more recently in St. Louis.

Their children are Tara, who is 8 years old, Kelly, 6, and Heidi, 5. Capt. Stephen Kiger said, "We have been very warmly welcomed by this community and have a feeling of belonging already. Although we have been here only a short time, we sense that there is a great potential within the community, and look forward to the challenge of doing our part for God and mankind in Granite City."

REV. DENNIS WYRICK

Rev. Dennis Wyrick is revival speaker

The Rev. Dennis Wyrick, evangelist and preacher in the Church of the Nazarene, will lead revival services at the First Church of the Nazarene, 4701 Highway 111. Services will be conducted from Oct. 8 to Oct. 13 at 7:30 each evening and on Sunday, Oct. 6, at 10:30 a.m. and 8 p.m., the host pastor, the Rev. William Roddy, said. The public will be welcomed.

The featured speaker has held successful pastorates in Davis Creek Church of the Nazarene in Charleston, W. Va., Broadway Church of the Nazarene in Louisville, Ky., and First Church of the Nazarene in Burlington, N.C.

Mission services in Sacred Heart parish

The Sacred Heart parish plans a week of spiritual renewal Sept. 29-Oct. 5.

Redemptorist missionaries, Fathers Tim Herron and Harry Korte, will conduct services every morning at 9:30 and every evening at 7:30. There will be special instructions and devotions in addition to celebration of the Mass. The 7:30 p.m. service is a repeat of each 9:30 a.m. service.

There will be a mini-mission for children of Sacred Heart/St. Joseph School at 8 a.m. on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday.

Confessions will be available before and after each service.

The public is being invited to join in the mission services. Sacred Heart Catholic Church is located at 2606 Washington Ave.

Fall revival at New Salem Baptist

Fall revival services will start Monday, Oct. 7, at New Salem Missionary Baptist Church, 1249 Klein St., Venice, it was announced today by the Rev. John H. Williams, pastor.

Services will be held daily at 7:30 p.m. at the Venice church, continuing through Friday, Oct. 11.

The Rev. William Robinson, pastor of First Baptist Church of North Little Rock, Ark., will be evangelist for the revival.

All services will be open to the public, with a special invitation being issued to friends and former members of the church, Rev. Williams said.

St. Margaret Mary bazaar Sunday

St. Margaret Mary's 1985 chicken dinner and bazaar will be held from 11 a.m. until 6 p.m. Sunday, Sept. 29, in the school cafeteria at 1900 St. Clair Ave.

Tickets for the family-style dinner will be sold at the door at $4.50 for adults and $2.25 for children aged 6-12. Those five and under will be admitted free. Carryouts will be available for $3.50.

The bazaar will feature several booths including handmade, children's, Christmas, country kitchen, white elephant and game room items.

Chairmen of the bazaar include contests, Sue Mell and Carol Epperson; game room, Pat Alsop and Carol Mangiaracino; white elephant, Joann Rozycski and Sue Nesbitt; country kitchen, Mary Ellen Boyer; Christmas, Francine Brown and Diane Slez; children's, Marlene Dickerman and Barb Steady; and handmade, Kay Rollins.

The main themes will be animals, plants, country designs, handwoven rugs, and pillows.

Prizes will include an afghan, a Christmas tree skirt, a Persian rug, a handmade grandfather clock, and a sun bonnet. Sue, the latter including a twin spread and sham.

Chairmen of the chicken dinner are Ed Lenzi Jr., Tom Boyd, Harriet Lovins and John Gonterman. This event is open to the public.

FALL BAZAAR will be given by the Ladies Club of St. Margaret Mary Catholic Church, 1900 St. Clair Ave., during the annual chicken dinner and bazaar from 11 a.m. to 6 p.m. Sunday, Sept. 29, at the school cafeteria. Handicraft work is displayed by (left to right) Marlene Dickerman, Francine Brown, Sue Mell and Carol Epperson. Decorative items being placed on sale include Christmas, country kitchen, white elephant, game room, children's and hand-made articles.

Local scout honored during worship service

Honored at St. John Lutheran Church, St. Clair and Dale avenues Sunday morning during the worship service was 1st Class Scout Anthony R. Shaver. He was cited for many projects that he carried out in connection with the Pro Deo et Patria (For God and Country) Scouting program. These projects were done over a span of two years and several months.

Chairman of the congregation, Harold J. Hackney, presented him with a congregation recognition letter after the pastor, the Rev. Samuel Boda, read it during the service.

The scout also received a citation from the Lutheran Council in the USA, with headquarters in New York City, for fulfilling requirements of its scouting program, called Lutheran Living Faith. He also received an emblem pin from the Lutheran Council in the USA, presented by his scoutmaster, Jack Moenster of Boy Scout Troop 8. It consists of a pendant with white background, designed with Chi Rho in red, superimposed on a gold cross, red circle and modified Luther seal. The pendant is suspended by a red ribbon from a white bar with the words "Living Faith" in gold.

Present in the chapel for these presentations were the parents of Anthony, Mrs. Mary Henke and Ronald Henke. They received pins of recognition for encouraging and assisting him.

Organ recital Sunday at First Presbyterian

A recital by Dan Vizer, a Granite City organist, will be presented at 3 p.m. Sunday, Sept. 29, at First Presbyterian Church, 22nd Street and Delmar Avenue.

The public is invited to attend and admission to the recital is free. The recital will feature the works of J.P. Peeters and Robert Hebble, both of whom have influenced Vizer's music education. Choral preludes of familiar hymns also will be presented.

Vizer has a degree in piano performance from Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, where he studied with world-famous concert pianist Ruth Slenczynska.

He also studied piano with Grace Welton at the American Conservatory of Music in Chicago. While on a study tour in Europe, Vizer met concert organist and composer Flor Peeters in Mechelen, Belgium.

Vizer also has performed in Robert Hebble's master classes, receiving special instructions from Hebble about performing the composer's music.

Dan Vizer

The recital is being sponsored by the Downtown Neighborhood Restoration Society, which is conducting its house tour Sunday. First Presbyterian Church is on the tour's itinerary.

Elizabeth Renaker earns pledge ritual

Elizabeth Renaker received the Pledge Ritual of Preceptor Beta Gamma Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi. President Marilyn Lumpkins conducted the ritual, assisted by Linda Koonig.

Financial plans were discussed, including an upcoming yard sale.

Betty Beck, hostess, presented a program on "Effective Communication," pointing out the importance of listening to understand, and not interrupting. She put the skills to the test by asking each member to tell about a favorite childhood toy or game.

The social committee held an appetizer party to conclude the evening. Those attending were Barbara Hente, Vickie Barth, Roberta Crawford, Joan Pritchard, Carol Cathey, Carolyn Walsh and B.J. Jones.

Cameo group plans Halloween party

Plans for a Halloween party were announced by Sandy DeMoulin, social chairman for the Cameo Society, at its initial meeting of the new year.

The autumn event is to be held for children of the members, with the date and location to be announced later.

Phyllis Talley hosted the meeting and President Myrna Tessary presided over the session. Kim Harrison is updating the yearbooks and requested information from all members and chairmen.

Each past president was asked to bring the club scrapbook for her year to the next meeting, in the home of Cindy Hollingshead.

Others attending were Ellen Voyles, Linda Givens, Joyce Tracy, Renee Schooley, Judy Reidelberger, Barb Mihalich, Jane Jackstadt, Pam Decker, Ginny Henson and Bonnie Goldenberg.

Minerva Club resumes meetings

The 1985-86 club year for the Minerva Woman's Club opened with a progressive dinner in the homes of hostesses Arlene Laub, Kathy Busch and Betty Skirball.

A business meeting was conducted by President Sarah Metcalf at the poolside of the Sunset Hills apartment complex.

Reports were given by committee chairmen, and ideas were presented to the members for the annual hobby auction in November.

Present were Beverly Benoit, Phyllis Brusatti, Cathy Busch, Helen Cook, Mary Dame, Shirley Goff, Fran Holt, Ruth Houser, Arlene Laub, MarLean Manogian, Sarah Metcalf, Clara Parker, Margaret Rehagen, Elaine Shipcoff, Betty Skirball, Peggy Solberger, Mary Tarpoff, Ruth Thornberry, Joyce Toussaint, June VanHorn, Emma Jean Wyrostek and guests, Dorothy Bertram and Mary Greene.

St. Clair County historical tour

St. Clair County Historical Society will sponsor its ninth house tour on Sunday, Oct. 6, including nine sites in Belleville, a Shiloh location and three in O'Fallon.

Seven homes, two museums, a restaurant, a church, a law office and office building, and an apartment will be open to the public.

The homes represent a variety of architectural styles, such as American foursquare, German street house, Greek revival, Victorian, Prairie and Queen Anne. Most are furnished with antiques and reflect restoration procedures.

Tickets costing $5 for adults and $3 for children six to 12 are available at various locations in St. Clair County or by calling 234-6600 or 235-2889.

NURSE SCHOLARSHIPS are presented to St. Elizabeth Medical Center associates (employees) Brenda K. Jones, Deidre Jan Schleicher and Sue Teitloff (left to right). They were selected as first recipients of Georgianna Moses Eilerman Memorial Fund scholarships. Each received a $500 scholarship presented by Ted Eilerman (far right), SEAC president and son of Georgianna Moses Eilerman. The memorial fund was established by Ervin Eilerman in memory of his late wife, a graduate of the former St. Elizabeth School of Nursing and a nurse for 38 years. The scholarship is to be awarded annually to an associate working toward a nursing degree. Jones is studying for a bachelor of science degree in nursing at Maryville College, while Schleicher is doing the same at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville and Teitloff at McKendree College.

THE NEWLY organized Theta Iota Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi Society met for its initial session in the home of President Paula Koskie. "Fun and Flowers" was the topic of a program presented by the president, who later served refreshments.

She announced the next meeting is scheduled to take place in the home of Debbie Gorsuch.

A CARD SHOWER is planned for Mrs. Edna Craft, of Rural Route One, Box 176, St. Jacob, Ill., in honor of her 88th birthday.

A former 75-year resident of Madison, Mrs. Craft is recuperating from a serious illness.

BARBARA ROGERS spoke on "Minor Prophets — Major Messages" at a monthly meeting of Sarah Circle of Central Christian Church. Members met in the home of Ruby Hart for the breakfast and business session.

Circle Chairman Mary Lee Lorton spoke on future plans and noted the next meeting will be hosted by Delores Yates. Marie Gordon gave the closing. Others present were Lena Seltzer, Marjorie Scott and Flora Mae Lensing.

A COOKIE RALLY for Girls Scouts in the River Bluffs Council area will be held on Saturday, Sept. 28, from 2 to 4 p.m. at the Edwardsville Senior High School gymnasium.

An afternoon of activities will launch the annual fund drive, with an expected attendance of 1,000 Girl Scouts and leaders.

Picnic by Downs unit

The Downs Syndrome Association of Southwestern Illinois will hold the annual family picnic at the Shell Park on Saturday, Sept. 28. The park is located between Edwardsville and Alton. The picnic is open to present and future members, according to Jackie Ehlerseldt, 345-5239, and Linda Bristol, 288-9028.

Mass media performance critiqued

The Metro-East Institute of Lifetime Learning has announced its schedule of programs for the upcoming quarter at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

During the fall quarter, the series will take a critical look at mass media performance. The Focus Series will be held on Wednesdays from 10:30 a.m. until noon in the Mississippi Room of the University Center, beginning Oct. 2. Registration is $3 for the entire series.

The institute, a cooperative venture by the university, three local community colleges, the American Association of Retired Persons and area senior citizen organizations, provides educational opportunities for persons 60 years or older for a minimal charge.

Speakers for the Focus Series will include members of the SIUE department of mass communications.

The schedule of programs includes: Oct. 2, "What Do We Expect of the Mass Media?", John Regnell speaker; Oct. 9, "Television: A Curse or a Blessing?", Kamil Winter speaker; Oct. 16, "Critiquing the Critics: Answering Cheap Shots", Riley Maynard speaker; Oct. 23, "Arrogance, Insensitivity and Other Common Complaints", Nora Baker speaker; Oct. 30, "The Right to Know Versus The Right to Privacy", Mike Killenberg speaker;

Nov. 6, "The Changing Advertising Marketplace", Barbara Regnell speaker; Nov. 13, "Stereotypes and Television", Jack Shaheen speaker; and Nov. 20, "Sex and Violence: MTV and Me", John Rider speaker.

Registration may be accomplished at the first class. Additional information may be obtained by contacting Reba Klenke in the SIUE Office of Continuing Education at 1-692-3210.

Resident appointed recruitment specialist for GCC

Barbara MacDonald of Granite City was recently named recruitment specialist for Granite City Campus of Belleville Area College.

As recruitment specialist, MacDonald is visiting area high schools to assist students in deciding on what they want to do with their lives and how college can help them, she said.

"GCC is here to serve the needs of the community," she said. "It is my responsibility to explain the different programs the college has and find out if there are any ways we can help them."

MacDonald believes in education, she said.

"I went to at least six colleges," she said. "I've gone to college every time I've had the opportunity."

Barbara MacDonald

"I believe in passing on that enthusiasm for education to others," she said.

Before becoming GCC's recruitment specialist, MacDonald was the co-owner of Income Property Specialists in Granite City.

Before that, she was a teacher for Coordinated Youth Services in Granite City, an alternative education program for youth from fifth graders to high school graduates.

Before coming to Granite City, she traveled with her husband, who was in the Air Force, she said. She lived in three foreign countries and 12 states.

"This job is a good fit," she said. "Little bits of everything have come together in this job. Between college, the military and raising five children, I am very flexible."

"I'm not a Beethoven or an Einstein, but I am well rounded," she said.

MacDonald enjoys working at GCC.

"I'm working in a stimulating atmosphere, with everyone trying to achieve the same goal," she said. "That goal is to offer a quality education for people in the community."

MacDonald received her bachelor's degree in English and secondary education from the University of Missouri in Kansas City.

She is working on her master's degree in speech communication at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

SIUE workshop topic to be stuttering

Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville will hold a one-day workshop Sept. 28 on the management of the beginning stutterer for professionals in the field of speech/language pathology and audiology.

Co-sponsored by the department of speech pathology and audiology and the Office of Continuing Education, the workshop will be held in the conference area of the University Center from 9 a.m. until 3:30 p.m.

Registration is $20. American Speech-Hearing Association approved continuing education units are available. Pre-registration is necessary for participation in the workshop.

Leader of the workshop will be Richard E. Shine, professor of speech pathology at East Carolina University. He teaches undergraduate courses in stuttering, articulation/phonology, cerebral palsy and augmentative communication.

Shine has presented numerous workshops on stuttering throughout the U.S. and does remediation work with clients.

The workshop will stress specific procedures for assessment of stuttering and fluency training of young children, ages three to nine. Parent counseling techniques and a specific environmental program will be explained.

The rationale for effective establishment, transfer and maintenance techniques will be discussed and demonstrated. Participants will be instructed in identifying stuttering (stuttered words per minute, percentage of stuttered words and physical concomitants) and determining need for fluency training.

Additional information may be obtained by contacting Dixie Engelman in the SIUE department of speech pathology and audiology at 1-692-3662.

Spanish dance performance set at BAC

Pascual & Angela will perform Spanish dances at Belleville Area College Thursday, Oct. 3.

They will perform "Dances of the Latin World" and "Ole, the Dance of Spain" at 9:30 a.m. and 1:30 and 7:30 p.m. in the Belleville Campus theater, 2500 Carlyle Road, Belleville.

"Dances of the Latin World" is a program of folk and ritual dances of Mexico, Puerto Rico, Cuba, Bolivia, Brazil and Spain. It is a fast-paced program with colorful costumes, bright music, audience participation and demonstrations of percussion instruments.

"Ole, the Dance of Spain" is a beautifully costumed program of the classical, regional and flamenco dances of Spain. This fast-paced program offers audience participation and a demonstration of the castanets.

Pascual and Angela give detailed and humorous explanations of each dance they perform.

Pascual gained international recognition as a leading dancer with the world-famous Spanish dancer Jose Greco.

He has worked for many years perfecting his skills with young audiences. His youth programs are to educate, as well as to entertain. Angela married Pascual in 1976 and joined him, performing in his youth programs.

She won first prize at the International Dance competitions in Agrigento, Italy at the age of 13. After winning the competition, she performed with Antonio, Spain's foremost dancer. She remained with the company for almost 16 years as prima ballerina.

She also made several movies in Europe and appeared on Spanish television in a series for three years.

The public is invited, free of charge. For more information, interested persons may call BAC's Students Activities Office, 1-235-2700, ext. 205.

SIUE sponsors national issues forum

Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville will host three National Issues Forum programs this fall.

The forum is a nationwide, non-partisan discussion that addresses important public issues. Through the forums, citizens can communicate their ideas and establish a common ground on which effective national policy can be built.

Reports of the forum are relayed to policymakers, and summaries of the discussions are presented at national conferences.

Each year the forum presents three domestic issues for public discussion. The topics chosen for the fall of 1985 are: welfare, tax reform and American/Soviet relations.

Programs are scheduled on Saturday mornings from 9:30 until 11:30 a.m. The programs and their locations include: Oct. 19 — Welfare: Who Should Be Entitled to Public Help?, Mississippi Room of the University Center; Nov. 2 — Taxes: Who Should Pay and Why?, Mississippi Room of the University Center; and Nov. 16 — The Soviets: What Is the Conflict About?, Classroom Building II, Room 3102.

There is a registration fee of $10 for all three forums or $5 for each individual forum. The fee covers the cost of a book of background information on each issue.

SIUE slates publishing workshops

Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville will offer two non-credit courses this fall on fiction writing for publication.

Classes for "Getting Your Short Stories Published" are scheduled on Tuesdays from 6:30 until 8:30 p.m., beginning Oct. 1 and continuing through Nov. 12.

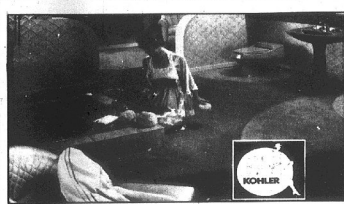

Participants will gain an understanding of editorial requirements while learning how to prepare and market manuscripts. Coursework will also include an examination of the current market for commercial fiction, and an introduction to copyright laws, magazine payment policies and business practices for fiction writers.

"Writing Humor" sessions will be held on Wednesdays from 6:30 until 8:30 p.m., beginning Oct. 2 and continuing until Oct. 23. Participants will learn how to write jokes, puns and anecdotes for relaxation or publication.

Additional information may be obtained by contacting the SIUE Office of Continuing Education at 1-692-3210.

Business 'incubator' conference Oct. 2-3

A two-day conference entitled "Small Business Research/Innovation: A New Tool For Economic Development" will be held at the Collinsville Hilton Inn Wednesday and Thursday, Oct. 2 and 3.

The conference is unique because it is the first of its kind, providing information on two major programs designed for the entrepreneur: a 15 Small Business Administration spokesman said.

PARTICIPANTS will be present and potential small business owners, companies or developers interested in emerging business opportunities, local governments and non-profit organizations devoted to economic development and small business assistance, universities looking for ways to develop new techniques and spin-off businesses from research, and corporations with a planning strategy that includes support for small business and the local community.

On Oct. 2, the focus will be on Small Business Innovation Research (SBIR), beginning at 8 a.m.

On Oct. 3, the focus will shift to the area of incubators, with concurrent workshops on how to conduct a feasibility study, how to perform an investment analysis, how to secure financial resources for small business incubators. These topics will be addressed beginning at 9 a.m.

Speakers from the SBA will be John L. Smith, management assistance, Region V.

OTHER SPEAKERS will include Carlos Morales, National Incubators Association; Fred Heale, state director, Missouri Small Business Development Centers; Robb Pruitt, SBIR specialist, Missouri; and Arnold Frikes, director of the Small Business Development Center at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

Co-sponsors of the conference are the Illinois Department of Commerce and Community Affairs, Illinois Small Business Development Centers, Southern Illinois University, Leadership Council of Southwestern Illinois, Inventors Association of St. Louis, SBA Region V, Branch Office in Springfield, Ill., and SBA Region VII District Office in St. Louis.

The opening session will begin at 8 a.m. The fee is $30, according to Cheryl Allen of the SBA at 312-886-1022.

Co-sponsors of the conference are the Illinois Department of Commerce and Community Affairs, Illinois Small Business Development Centers, Southern Illinois University, Leadership Council of Southwestern Illinois, Inventors Association of St. Louis, SBA Region V, Branch Office in Springfield, Ill., and SBA Region VII District Office in St. Louis.

Registration for the conference will be held between 7 and 7:45 a.m.

Township gives wheelchair to ACT

By SUSANNE INDELICATO

NAMEOKI - A wheelchair owned and used by Nameoki Township's former bus service was given to the Agency for Community Transit Monday night.

Township Supervisor Harry Briggs told the Town Board of Trustees some incapacitated residents needed a wheelchair when riding the bus to the hospital. The wheelchair, he noted, was originally purchased by the Madison County Transit Authority, which oversees ACT.

The township turned its bus service over to ACT Sept. 1.

GLORY LANE - The township cannot take over the maintenance of Glory Lane, it was disclosed by Trustee Norm Hall.

Hall said the road was never dedicated to the township, and the road is only 25 feet wide instead of the required 40 feet.

Some residents along the road had requested the township to maintain and repair it.

DOBBY SLOUGH WELL - The contracts to maintain and operate an underground water well in the Dobby Slough are being reviewed, Hall reported.

The contracts call for Nameoki Township, Granite City and the Metro-East Sanitary District to share the cost of operating the well.

The well will be operated for one year to determine its effect on lowering the water table in the slough.

HEMLOCK AVENUE - Frank Scizgiak of 2449 Hemlock Ave. complained that only a block of the street had been blacktopped. He also said gutters and driveways along the street had been clogged.

Highway Commissioner Lee Adams said he had blacktopped several township roads on a priority basis.

"We've got a problem with garbage trucks tearing it (Hemlock) up. There's no way I can get in there this year. I promise you I'll try next summer. I am doing ditch work there," he said.

"When you don't have the money, you can't do it all," Briggs added.

Adams also told Scizgiak he would replace his present culvert if it is in bad condition, however, an extension of the culvert would cost Scizgiak $6 per foot.

ADOPT ME. Friday, a 12-week-old chihuahua-mix female, is available for adoption at the APA Shelter, 5000 Old Alton Road. For more information, interested persons may call the shelter at 931-7030. Shelter hours are Mondays, 9 to 11 a.m.; Tuesdays, 4 to 6 p.m.; Wednesdays, 5 to 8 p.m.; Thursdays, 10 a.m. to 2 p.m.; Fridays, noon to 3 p.m.; Saturdays, 10 a.m. to 1 p.m.; and Sundays, noon to 3 p.m.

Founders Day celebrated

Washington University will observe its 132nd Founders Day with "An Evening With Mark Twain" Saturday, Oct. 12, in the King Louis IX Ballroom, Omni International Hotel at Union Station.

William McLinn will recreate Mark Twain at the celebration which honors distinguished WU graduates and outstanding faculty.

A former Congressional staff member and seminarian, McLinn began performing as Mark Twain in 1975. In the intervening years, he has given more performances of Twain than all other impersonators, with the exception of Hal Holbrook.

An inveterate train traveler and chronicler of life on the railroads, as well as life on the riverboats, Mark Twain passed through Union Station on his visit to St. Louis in 1893, when he received an honorary degree from Washington University.

This year marks both WU's 132nd anniversary and the beginning of the 1985-86 sesquicentennial of Mark Twain's birth. It also is the 100th anniversary of Twain's celebrated American lecture tour.

The university will present distinguished alumni awards "for outstanding professional achievement, contributions in areas of public service, exceptional service to WU or all three" to Jerome F. Brach, president of Brach Manufacturing Co. Inc. and Marcraft Inc.; Paula J. Clayton, professor and head of the department of psychiatry, University of Minnesota; B. Thomas Coleman, member of Congress, 6th District, Missouri; Lawrence P. Klamon, president and CEO, Fugua Industries Inc.; A. Wellborne Moise, retired vice president personnel and office administration, Ralston Purina Co.; and Judy F. Schnitzer, real estate broker.

The event is sponsored by the WU Alumni Association. Cocktails will be at 6 p.m. The program will feature dinner and dancing.

Tickets cost $25 a person. Reservations must be received by Friday, Oct. 4. For more information, persons may call 1-314-889-5122.
